ICLCM WEBSITE RUN BY MARIO GREGORIO

ICLCM PUBLICATIONS

Dear colleagues, dear friends,
Best wishes for 2018!

During the year 2017, we had various cultural and museum events in different countries. We attempted to cover some of them on our web site and in our Newsletters. Many thanks to Maria Gregorio and her assistant Catherine for their work on the ICLCM web-site.

2017 was an exciting and fruitful year and as usual, the highlight of the year was the well attended ICLCM Annual Conference "Exhibitions: New Insights", which took place in Greece, on Crete, on September 15-20th at the Kazantzakis Museum. Thanks to our Greek hosts and organizers, we had a splendid, fascinating and well run programme. We are immensely grateful to ICOM Greece, the ICOM Hellenic National Committee, the Ministry of Culture of Greece, the Board of the Kazantzakis Museum, and all other sponsors and supporters. We specially convey our heartfelt thanks to Teti Hadjinicolaou, Varvara Tsaka, Michael Taroudakis, Anastasia Lazaridou, Nikolaos Stampolidis, and all the other Greek colleagues and assistants who assisted in our sessions and our travels making our 2017 Conference on Crete one of the most successful ones and leaving us with an unforgettable experience.

We had six Conference sessions with 39 speakers. All the papers presented at the ICLCM conference sessions were highly professional and informative resulting in innumerable questions and generating some heated arguments and discussions. One of the highlights of the Conference was the closing event featuring the open air concert next to the Kazantzakis Museum by the beautiful and talented music team of the Museum of Medicine - "Lama". The open air reception was offered by the Cultural Association of Myrtia, at the Kazantzakis Museum Square. The Cretan food and wines were not only delicious but plentiful as well.

The post-Conference bus tour of the Eastern part of Crete: Heraklion / Open Air Museum "Lychnostatis" / Elounda / Plaka / island of Spinalonga / Aghios Nikolaos / Cretaquarium / Heraklion was memorable and left unforgettable impressions.

During the Conference we combined our work at the sessions with free time in the afternoons to explore the beach, the port and the City of Heraklion. We visited the Nikos Kazantzakis Museum, the Historical Museum of Crete, the Archaeological Museum of Heraklion and other museums and galleries. We explored the Cretan cuisine and wines in various restaurants and tavernas. So in addition to learning about Cretan culture and history we had the opportunity to enjoy some of the natural beauty of Crete.

At the ICLCM annual Conference we distributed the 2016 ICLCM Annual Conference Book of Proceedings "Shaping the Cultural Landscapes: The role of writers and composers museums" held in Milan, Italy on July 3-9, 2016 as part of the 2016 Annual ICOM

"Museums and cultural landscapes: Shaping the Cultural Landscapes". All the authors of the articles and participants were able to get a copy. We still have copies available of the 2015 and 2016 Books of Proceedings for those who did not receive their copy. Just send me a note with your request.

I am now looking forward to receiving all your papers for our Book of Proceedings of the 2017 Annual ICLCM Conference on Crete by the deadline of January 31, 2018. Many thanks to those authors who have already sent us their articles.

I am also happy to announce that our ICOM Latvia colleagues have invited us to hold our 2018 Annual Conference in Riga-Yurmala, on August 3-8th, 2018. The Conference theme will be "Time and Personalities in the Museums Exhibitions". The ICLCM application deadline for participation is May 1st, 2018. We will be informing you about the details of the Conference as soon as we get this information from our Latvian colleagues.

Our next Board meeting will be held in Trieste, Italy, on April 20-22, 2018. All those who are interested, especially our former Chairs and former Board members, are invited to participate as non-voting guests.

With my best wishes for the Holidays and the New Year,

*Yours truly,
Galina Alekseeva, Ph. D.
ICLCM President*
